Salem Reads Thanks You

The Salem Public Library Foundation would like to thank all the people who worked on the first ever Salem Reads: One Book, One Community. We had great attendance at musical performances, movie screenings, Oregon Humanities Conversations, the robot expo and the art exhibit featuring local artists' interpretations of our chosen book, Spare Parts by Joshua Davis.

The author visited Salem and gave a lecture at Loucks Auditorium and a student lecture at the Career Technical Education Center (CTEC). The entire program was very successful. Thanks to everyone who participated.

We are grateful for our many generous partners: the Salem Public Library hosted nearly all of our free programs and offered the enthusiastic support of staff; Oregon Public Library Innovation Fund of the Oregon Community Foundations gave a generous grant to launch the program, as did the Salem Library Advisory Board, and Salem Foundation. Generous sponsors included Capitol Toyota and Robert Welle, CFP of Ameriprise Financial, Roth's Fresh Markets and Salem Weekly.

Kate Van Ummersen, Executive Director of the Salem Public Library Foundation said, "I am especially grateful for over 30 volunteers who gave their time and dedication to the Salem Reads project over the last year. Their work was vital to the success of the program."

We hope everyone will join us for Salem Reads: One Book, One Community in 2018.

Get Involved

The Foundation will sponsor Salem Reads again in 2018. As we plan next year, we'd like to hear from you! Please go to our website and take a quick survey.
